For the year 2001, 94.6% of MRA dues are tax deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense (not as a charitable contribution). 5.4% expended for lobbying activities is not deductible.

Payments to Missouri Restaurant Association are not deductible as charitable contributions for federal income tax purposes. However, they are deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense under other provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

Welcome to the Missouri Restaurant Association

Congratulations on choosing the foodservice and hospitality industry as your course of study. This exciting industry is experiencing rapid growth and needs highly trained management personnel like yourself!

A great way to learn even more about the industry is to become a Student Member of the Missouri Restaurant Association. For only $50 per year, you'll receive MRA's monthly newsletter and will have access to MRA's Website, www.morerestaurants.org, access to legislative alerts, membership meetings and events, industry training materials and special publications, plus you'll have opportunities to network with industry professionals.

Don't pass up this opportunity to expand your knowledge of the foodservice industry.
